THE PROPERTY

Tregantle sits at the end of Kiln Way and is situated behind a striking gated entrance, set within a generous 1.4-acre plot. This authentic timber-framed bungalow dates back to the 1960s and retains many of its original architectural features. Characteristic elements such as wooden panelling, original fireplaces, and expansive windows and doors contribute to its mid-century charm.

The property offers a unique opportunity: it can either be restored and enhanced in its current form or considerably developed further. Planning consent is in place to significantly extend the building, alter the façade, or completely redevelop the site. Should the proposed redevelopment be pursued, the finished home would measure approximately 4,250 sq ft, with an estimated end value between £2 million and £2.25 million. SITUATION

The charming village centre of Grayshott lies just 1.5 miles away, offering a vibrant and historic high street with a wide range of shops, cafés, and restaurants. The well-loved Fox and Pelican pub adds to the village's appeal.

Tregantle is ideally located for families, with excellent access to local schooling options. Grayshott Primary is nearby, and esteemed independent schools such as Amesbury and St. Edmund's are within easy reach. Well-regarded state schools include Bohunt in Liphook and Woolmer Hill in Haslemere.

Transport links are strong: Haslemere train station is just 3.2 miles away, providing a direct service to London Waterloo in under an hour. The A3 Hindhead junction is conveniently located just 2.3 miles from the property.

THE GROUNDS

Tregantle is tucked away and enjoys secluded and partially level site, with its own private gated driveway. The grounds are a key feature, offering an expansive lawn, various outdoor entertaining areas, and undulating woodland. Several outbuildings complement the estate, and the surrounding greenery provides excellent privacy. Natural light floods the immediate vicinity of the property, enhancing its sense of openness and connection with nature.
