THE PROPERTY

An interesting parcel of paddock land and woodland with a small stream running through the centre amounting to 2.21 acres between the settlements of Milland and Linch. The land was originally kept back by the current owners when a farm was sold as a possible burial area for family and friends. It was never consented or used for this purpose and so over the last few decades has been used as a small holding for storage of farm equipment, grazing of animals and general countryside pursuits. The land can be viewed at interested parties leisure please note sensible footwear or wellington boots are recommended for visits due to the muddy land and extreme caution is advised due to the stream running through the centre of the land. There may well also be livestock grazing. The gate to the land is to be kept locked so please bolt after entering.

There are no services connected to the land and we are not aware of service availability in the area. All offers are to be submitted by email or letter to Mark Steward at Clarke Gammon mark.steward@clarkgammon.co.uk enclosing the name of proposed buyer and their solicitors details along with proof of funds for submission to the owners for their consideration.

SITUATION

The area is well known for its hunting, shooting and fishing and the village of Milland is synonymous with equestrian and polo facilities. A beautiful parcel of land of 2.2 acres in the heart of the South Downs National Park.

The land lies outside any settlement policy area and is not suitable for any form of development. The owners are looking to sell the land on an unconditional basis.

There are no services connected to the land and we are not aware of service availability in the area.

All offers are to be submitted by email or letter to Mark Steward at Clarke Gammon mark.steward@clarkgammon.co.uk enclosing the name of proposed buyer and their solicitors details along with proof of funds for submission to the owners for their consideration.
